Funny Wedding Toast

I really like this champagne. To tell you the truth, I wouldn't mind spending a great deal of time with this champagne. I like the look of it, the taste of it, and I like the way the bubbles feel in my mouth. Now this is usually where [groom] would chime in and say something like, "If you love that champagne so much, why don't you marry it?" And I would normally have a clever response like, "Well, if you love [bride] so much why don't you marry her?" But... [gestures to couple, already married]. I raise my glass to [bride and groom], who always seem to be one step ahead of my suggestions.
